PROHIBITION LOSES BY 20,000 IN ALABAMA

Only Three Counties In Entire State Gave Majorities For the Constitutional Amendment.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 30.—All indications point to a majority of between 18,000 and 20,000 in Alabama against the prohibition constitutional amendment. Chairman J. Lee Long, who has been in charge of the fight against the amendment, claims that the majority against the amendment will be fully 20,000.

Jefferson county, in which is Birmingham, the largest city in the State, in spite of the fact that the fight has been concentrated here, gave a majority of over 1,000 against the amendment. Mobile, Montgomery and Cullman counties show the largest majorities on the victorious side and it appears the amendment has carried in but three counties, Talladega, Macon and Sumter, with Lee in doubt.

Monday's election, being the first time the State has ever had an opportunity to pass on the prohibition question, is regarded as especially significant. Still it cannot be regarded as a straight anti-prohibition victory, because of the personal politics that has been injected into the issue. Its association with the administration of Governor B. B. Comer and his reputed ability to name a successor to the Governorship in Judge S. D. Wesley, author of the prohibition bill, have figured prominently in the result.

A significant feature of the result is the fact that sentiment against the amendment is so widespread.

Rural precincts, small towns and cities alike are, for the most part, returning substantial majorities on the winning side.

There has never been seen here anything like the enthusiasm shown in Birmingham over the result. Thousands of people from Jefferson and adjoining counties were here to see the returns flashed and downtown streets were one billow of enthusiasm. The result is regarded as a distinct repudiation of the present State administration, which has been particularly radical in its so-called reform program.

Exciting Election in Birmingham.

In Birmingham the election on the prohibition amendment was the most exciting ever witnessed. Hundreds of people were crowded around each polling place, women and children were singing and brass bands stationed by the anti-amendment forces were playing patriotic airs.

Each polling place witnessed its quota of fist fights, there being so many it was impossible to keep track of them. Feeling was so high that a few words were sufficient to bring on a blow. As an instance of the deep feeling displayed, a prominent minister went to the polls and a young woman attempted to pin a white ribbon upon him. He declined, telling her that he considered it improper for young ladies to speak to men on the streets whom they did not know. The woman began crying, and the minister apologized for hurting her feelings, but said he considered the polling places very improper places for the young women to be. The affair was taken up all over the city and partisans commended or denounced the conduct of the minister, according as their sentiments on the questions dictated.

The streets were thronged with people early in the evening watching the bulletin boards of the newspapers.

Birmingham gave a majority of 953 against the amendment; Greater Birmingham (including suburbs) records a majority of 1,253 against.

Chairman J. Lee Long, of the State Alabama anti-amendment committee, issued the following statement:

"I want to congratulate the people of Alabama on their victory, won through the efforts of the press.

"This will serve notice on future generations that the people of Alabama will not allow any of their personal liberties abridged.

"I hope that the gentlemen on the other side will strike hands with us, as we have malice towards none, and join us in a forward stride, so that we can go on and make Alabama the greatest State in the Union."

While the election was, an apparent landslide in repudiation of prohibition, it is not regarded here as likely that the State will ever go to the conditions that existed before the adoption of the State-wide prohibition laws. It is generally believed that the result means ultimately a modification of the present drastic laws, but not necessarily their repeal.

Prohibitionists were largely responsible for the result. Counties which have had prohibition for twenty-five years voted against putting it

TALIAFERRO WANTS TO SUCCEED HIMSELF

BUSINESS SENATOR DESIRES
SHORT CAMPAIGN.

Willing to Let His Record Speak for Itself—Will Endeavor to Make Canvass.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 30.—Senator Taliaferro will run for the Senate, says The Jacksonville Metropolis. There is no foundation for the rumors which have been rather persistently circulated throughout the State that he would not again be a candidate. A Metropolis representative saw Senator Taliaferro this morning and asked him directly if there was any foundation for the rumors.

"None in the world," said the Senator, "and you may say in The Metropolis, if you will, that I shall be a candidate for re-election, and, with the loyal support which my friends have always given me, expect to win."

"I have made no formal announcement up to this time, as I have regarded it as too early to start a campaign, and had felt that my friends pretty generally understood that I would be in the race."

"Will you issue a platform, Senator?"

"Not for the present at least. It has happened that during my service in the Senate practically all the questions of public interest have come before the Congress in one form or another, and it has fallen to my lot to take position on each and all of them. The record thus made up is before the people, who will know from that record whether or not my service to them and the State has been loyal and faithful."

"When will you begin your campaign?"

"Not for some time as yet. Indeed, I think the campaign should be as short as possible, having in mind, of course, a sufficiency of time for a fair and full hearing for all who wish to be heard. A long campaign is not only trying upon the candidates, but disturbs the public mind and interferes with the business interests of the State."

"Florida just now is doing finely. Indeed, I believe we are making greater strides than ever before, and it would be unfortunate not to eliminate as much as possible the disturbing element of politics. We can do this, I think, with a not unreasonable short campaign."

"Will you make a canvass of the State?"

"I shall endeavor to do so. But Congress will meet on Monday for the long session, and my canvass will have to depend largely upon my ability to get away from Washington. Important questions are coming up, both from a national and State point of view, and I shall not willingly neglect them. For this reason I shall not be as free as I could wish to visit all parts of the State, but I shall do the best I can, and feel that I may rely on my friends to do the rest."

A Distinguished Visitor.

Hon. J. W. Hatcher, formerly of Lake City but now residing at Worthington, where he is engaged extensively in the mercantile and real estate business, was among the visitors to Gainesville Tuesday, and favored The Sun with a highly appreciated call.

Mr. Hatcher is one of the most prominent men in this section of the State. He represented Columbia county faithfully and efficiently in the Legislature, having a record of which

ALL SECTIONS UNITED ON INLAND WATERWAYS

Importance of Great Enterprise Duly Recognized By Every Interest in the United States.

In the discussion of improvement of the inland waterways of the United States, the fact that the old-time policy of sporadic appropriations for special objects, not regarding the character nor the value of the stream when improved, is especially noticeable. The reason, though obvious always, was not given its just weight in the times when appropriations for waterway improvements went by favor and were looked upon in the light of fads, useful in the days preceding nominations rather than useful to trade and commerce. The trade and commercial interests of the country pushed forward by the irresistible force of development are now as a unit in appreciation of the fact that the inland waterway is the natural avenue between shipper and receiver and that, when improved, development can proceed on unhampered lines with freight congestions avoided and communication between producer and a market always open.

Moreover, all sections of the United States are united on the axiomatic proposition that all inland waterways worthy of improvement and with tonnage bearing capacity when improved, are component, are of one magnificent system of transportation, each bearing its constituent part to the comprehensive whole, and with each to receive the attention of the Government of the United States in due time and with complete and effective consideration in the adoption of the platform of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress—"A Policy; not a Project."

The policy of inland waterway improvement is now in the stage when unity of action on behalf of the adoption of the Policy and the abandonment of the Project, will command success. There is no longer question of the value of the improved inland waterway to the trade and commercial interests of the United States. That value is appreciated—and appreciated at a great cost to shipper and receiver—on the Pacific Coast no less than on the Atlantic. New England, with her manufacturing interests, appreciates the inestimable value of the inland waterway improved no less than the value is appreciated in the cotton and rice and the sugar fields of the South, now supplemented by the wonderful industrial development of that section. The belt of manufacturing and mining States extending from the Delaware, crossing the mountains and stretching through to the Mississippi, appreciates the value—and across the Mississippi is the great West stretching to the foothills of the Rockies.

All sections, and all parts of sections of the country, with each State of the forty-six having its especial treasure of mine or field or factory, are now as one in the demand for the adoption of that comprehensive platform—"A Policy; not a Project." The unity of desire is conceded. The supplemental force is unity of action. For that reason the absolute importance of each and every section of the Union, and each and every trade and commercial organization being adequately represented at the Sixth Annual Session of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, at the New Willard, Washington, December 8th, 9th and 10th, cannot be too strongly nor too persistently urged. That Congress will mark the beginning of the end of delay and dissuited demands. The day of the Policy, with a comprehensive system of improvement of the inland waterways and the ending of the disastrous freight congestions will follow and be permanent.

Cuban Woman Died From Horrible Burns in Tampa

TAMPA, Nov. 30.—At 2 o'clock Monday afternoon Maria Acosta, a Cuban woman of West Tampa, died at her home on Arch street, after having been in intense agony since 9 o'clock Sunday night from torturing flames inflicted by a fiendish man who covered the woman's clothing with gasoline and then set fire to the lower portions of her dress, soon enveloping her entire person in flames, and so frightfully burning her body, limbs and head as to cause death after seventeen hours' of the most intense agony.

The woman was living alone on Arch street, having separated from her husband some time ago, but never having secured a divorce. For several weeks a Cuban named Miguel Gomez had been an unwelcome visitor to the woman's house and had so and it is thought in a spirit of diabolical revenge went to Maria's home and poured a bucket of gasoline over her and then struck a match to her fluid-drenched clothing, literally roasting her.

Two confederates are said to have been seen entering the house with Gomez. One of these is still at large and another supposed to have been connected with the affair is in jail, that is Rafael Bermudez, who figured so conspicuously as a witness in the Fickaroto murder case. The principal in the horrible deed has been also placed behind the bars after having been apprehended and carried before the dying woman, who fully identified him and detailed, between agonizing screams, the sickening story substantially as given above. County sheriff's deputies are hunting for the other man who assisted in the

"Exaggerated Ego" Cause of Most Horrible Crime

GREENVILLE, O., Nov. 30.—After murdering his mother and an officer who had attempted to arrest him, and probably fatally injuring another woman and her husband, Claude Weaver, 36 years old, completed the tragedy by committing suicide.

Weaver was declared by physicians to be afflicted with "exaggerated ego." He was under suspended sentence from the probate court. Sheriff John Hager and Deputy Sheriff William Hager went to Weaver's home to arrest him. The appearance of the officers seemed to drive the man mad. He opened fire on them from a second window with a shotgun and shot Hager wounded. A moment later Weaver's mother rushed from the house, crying "I'm shot," and fell dead at the feet of the sheriff.

Weaver was trying to enter house to a wood shed into which Ferra had crawled, and fired twice at the wounded officer, killing him. He then jumped into the buggy in which the officers had reached the house and drove to the home of Levi Minnich, a neighbor, from whom he demanded protection.

When Minnich hesitated, Weaver shot Minnich through the back. Weaver then turned on Mrs. Minnich and shot her twice.

Armed citizens quickly surrounded the house and two deputy sheriffs broke through the rear door. They discovered the body of Weaver under a bed. He had used his last bullet to kill himself.

The condition of Mr. and Mrs. Minnich is critical.

ELKS WILL HOLD LODGE OF SORROW

EVENT OF INTEREST WITH ELKS
OVER UNITED STATES.

Impressive Services to Memory of Departed Brothers, Which Will Be Held Publicly Next Sunday.

As is the annual custom of the order, Gainesville Lodge No. 990, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will hold its memorial service, or lodge of sorrow, on next Sunday afternoon, and this event will no doubt be largely attended, as a most impressive and interesting program has been arranged for the occasion.

It is the custom once each year, the first Sunday in December, for every Elk lodge in the United States to meet in this memorial service, as a token of brotherly love to the departed brothers. The service is always deep and impressive, as the ceremony is one of the regular order of the lodge, and is most beautiful in its ritualistic work.

Notwithstanding that Gainesville lodge has been in existence nearly five years, this lodge has lost only four brothers by death, being Brothers B. F. Jordan, October 17, 1906; W. G. Robinson, October 27, 1906; W. E. Dow, September 6, 1908, and Fred H. Ford, September 11, 1908. A fine enlarged portrait of each of these departed brothers adorns the walls of the Elks' Club here, which act as gentle reminders of the fidelity of these departed brothers, and it is to revere the memory of these absent ones that this service is held.

But it will not only be to the memory of departed brothers of Gainesville lodge that this sacred service is held, for the service is intended in this lodge, like others, to include all Elksdom where the ranks have been invaded and made vacant by death.

The Program.

The following interesting program has been arranged for this memorial service, which will be held in the lodge room of the local Elks Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock:

SHOT INTO CIRCUS.

Some Miscreants Discharged Contents of Cannon at Tent Monday Night.

It is deplorable to have to relate that some disgraceful conduct was indulged in near the circus grounds Monday night, when some person or persons fired a loaded cannon into the main show tent.

The cannon, which was about four feet in length in the bore, was loaded with brick-bats and flint rock, and when it was discharged the contents were shattered over the tent, some missiles penetrating the canvas. Fortunately it was at an hour when the performance was not on, or some person may have been killed.

The action was reported to Marshal Dell by the show authorities. That official went immediately to the scene, where he discovered the cannon reloaded, but no one was around it. It was evidently the intention to discharge the weapon again, as it was heavily loaded with stones.

Marshal Dell took charge of the cannon, which is now in his possession. He extracted from its barrel nearly a peck of brick-bats and stones.

This action is not approved by the people of Gainesville, and if the guilty ones are apprehended they will no doubt be prosecuted.

SOLD HIS FARM

Minnesota Man Makes Sale Without Aid of Real Estate Agent and Did Not Pay One Cent Commission.

Mr. H. St. John of Cass county, Minn., says: "I sold my farm to a man in Iowa at my own price, and what is more to the point, I didn't have to pay a cent commission to anyone."

"I had given up all hope of ever selling when I happened across the advertisement of Leonard Darbyshire, Incorporated, Rochester, N. Y., and this concern, by a new system of bringing buyer and seller together, sold my farm."

Mr. St. John's success in selling his farm was due to reading a booklet issued by Leonard Darbyshire, Inc., of Rochester, N. Y. This booklet tells of a new and successful method of finding buyers for farms and real estate, business properties and patents. The Corporation issuing this book are not real estate agents and do not accept a penny in commission on sales made by their assistance. Their plan of cutting out the real estate agents has met with remarkable success; and owners throughout the country are availing themselves of this opportunity to sell quickly places which for a long time remained in the hands of real estate agents, who failed to sell, for the reason that the commission which the agent had placed upon the property had killed the sale.

It is said that Mr. Leonard Darbyshire, the president of the concern, is doing more to assist property owners to sell than all the real estate agents in America combined, and anyone wishing to dispose of anything anywhere at any price, would do well to write to Leonard Darbyshire, President, Dept. 107, Rochester, N. Y., giving a brief description of the property for sale, and asking him to send a free copy of his booklet explaining his new method of selling.

MORE HARD ROAD FOR MICANOPY

CONTRACT LET FOR STRETCH FROM MICANOPY NORTH.

This Road Will Connect With Wacahoota Road, Lacking Only Short Space of Completing Gap.

The progressive people of the Micanopy sub-road district expressed a determination by balloting two or three years ago to have good roads, and they are living up to their determination. This district probably has a greater mileage of good road than any other in the county, and the district is gaining all the time.

The road from Micanopy to Evinston is as hard, as well surfaced, and as well built as any in the State, and the traveling public appreciate such magnificent highways. Not only is this a good road, but there are others leading out from Micanopy in every direction, and that district has become famous for hard surfaced highways.

But the people of Micanopy district are not yet satisfied, for they are continually building, "reaching out," as it were. They have just closed another contract with Jesse R. Emerson for the construction of a road northward from Micanopy to the district line limit, which will lack only a mile and a sixteenth from connecting with the Wacahoota road. Mr. Emerson and his force went to work Monday on this stretch, and will push the same through to completion as soon as possible.

With the exception of the stretch above referred to, a hard surfaced road will be afforded from Gainesville all the way to Micanopy without a break, and as this gap belongs to nobody in particular, it has been suggested that the county commissioners take charge of same.

Putnam and other counties adjacent to Alachua are waking up to the comfort, convenience and importance of a hard roads system, and old Alachua will not be found wanting when it comes to completing the inter-county system.

CHARGED WITH SELLING BEER.

L. C. Hudson, Colored, of LaCrosse, Must Answer to the Charge.

Charged with selling spirituous liquors in a county which had voted against the sale of same, L. C. Hudson, a well-known negro of the LaCrosse section, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff W. F. Hines Monday and brought to this city, where he was arraigned preliminarily before Judge Mason and released under a bond of $200 for his appearance on the third Monday in December.

It is stated that Hudson was caught in the act of disposing of beer for a cash consideration, and witnesses may be enabled to give more light on the matter when the case is brought for preliminary hearing on the date set.

AMUSEMENTS

PARK DREW BIG CROWD.

Popular Tent Theatre Well Filled With an Appreciative Audience.

The big tent of the C. W. Park Dramatic Company was again filled last night to witness the production of the four-act melo-drama, "The Girl From Texas," which was presented with the usual success by the members of the Park caste, all of whom are regarded as good artists.

The play of Monday night, "Richmond," was so beautifully rendered that many compliments were paid, hence the increased audience last night.

"The Girl From Texas" is strictly a melo-drama, but is tinged with sufficient pathos and humor intermingled to cause the audience to cry one moment and become convulsed with laughter the other. It was well staged and well produced, and those who attended have placed their approval upon it.

The specialties between the acts, which made one continuous performance, were good. Sam and Edna Park, as usual, were there "with the goods." They are a clever pair of singing and dancing artists, and as a black-faced comedian Sam jumped into prominence long ago. The Baunas comedy team again made a hit, as their stage work is far above the average seen in a popular-priced show.

But the greatest vaudeville act—that is, the most remarkable, is the Graham trio, comprising the father and two little tots, aged two and four respectively, who are wonderful in their acrobatic work. The oldest of the children is a "born comedian," and never missed his calling when his father placed him before the footlights. The younger of the boys shows that he is also going to develop into the "real thing" as he advances in years. The trio performs some remarkable acts, and have won the admiration of those who have seen them.

The big tent is well lighted this year, Mr. Park having installed his own system, which makes the stage as bright as day.

This evening the famous four-act

Separate Remedies, Each Devised for the Treatment of a Particular Ailment.

There is no "cure-all" among the Rexall Remedies. There are different and separate medicines, each one devised for a certain human ailment or a class of ailments closely allied. For instance, Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are recommended for the positive relief of stomach irritation, indigestion, flatulence and dyspepsia. They are rich in Bismuth-Subnitrate, Pepsin and Carminatives. They are prepared by special processes which perfect and enhance the great remedial value of these well-known medicinal agents. This remedy sells for 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00 per package. Everyone suffering from stomach disorder should try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, inasmuch as they cost nothing if they do not satisfy.

Pat, the principal comedian this season with Coburn's Greater Minstrels, is something of a joker and furnishes fun for the company both on and off the stage. One of his efforts was at tempted on "Joe Coburn," his manager. Pat emerged from his state-room one morning on the company's special car with an apparent disagreeable frown. "I want to see Coburn," said he.

The absence of the "Mr. Coburn" in his speech attracted the boys' notice and as Pat reached the Manager's state-room they listened to the following: "Mr. Coburn, you'll have to make a change in this car."

"Well, what's the trouble now?" said the manager, somewhat surprised at Pat. "Well, it's like this," said Pat, "I'm so gosh darned long for my berth, and the berth is so narrow, I can't double up, and I can't lie cross-wise in the state-room. Now, what in thunder will I do?" Mr. Coburn looked quizzically at Pat, but found him as serious as could be. "Well," said Joe, "if I find you seven feet of lineal space in the state-room will you agree to be satisfied and sleep there?" "Bet cher life," said Pat. "All right," said Mr. Coburn, "it will be ready for you tonight," and as he said it he realized Pat had his "kidding" clothes on. After the performance that night Pat went to his state-room and found the berth made up and down the side of the car and beside it on a wide blue ribbon the seven lineal feet marked off neatly as promised by his manager. Pat never mentioned it, but has kept his kidding away from the manager's office ever since, simply remarking, "I'm going to let the old-timer alone."

Coburn's Minstrels come to the Baird Theatre Friday night, Dec. 3rd. Prices, 50c, 75c and $1.

A HOT OLD TIME.

Two Colored Women Engaged in Exciting Fight Monday Night.

There was a "hot old time" in front of the store of the Wilson Company Monday night, when Winnefred Clark and Ruby Harris, two well-known colored women, got into a real, live scrap, which resulted in an old-fashioned hair-pulling, both women sustaining several ugly scratches.

The row, which it is understood was over a man, occurred at an hour when the street was well filled with people, and the animated altercation caused a great deal of excitement and amusement, intermingled.

Both women were arrested and put up a cash bond of $10 each, which was forfeited in the Mayor's Court Tuesday morning.

Winnefred seemed the more aggressive, and the bolder of the two. As she was released under her own bond and turned to go away, she remarked: "I sho' would er pulled all dat niggah's wool out'n her head if dat cop hadn't cum erlong, or I'd er had her runnin' so fas' dat she would er spit in her own face fo' she got home."

WORK ON MAIN STREET.

Force Busily Engaged Leveling Off This Important Thoroughfare.

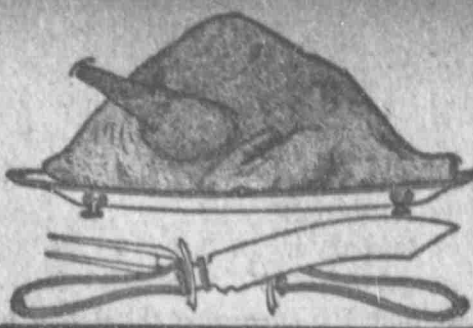

A force of workmen have been engaged for the past two days in leveling off and repairing West Main street S., in accordance with the order of the City Council at its last meeting, and in a short while residents of this thoroughfare hope to see the same in presentable and serviceable condition, for the first time in several years.

West Main street is one of the city's principal thoroughfares, but the street has been sadly neglected on account of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad traversing it, with the result that it became in such miserable condition that it has been impossible for teams to use the same.

An effort has been made several times to induce the railroad to lower its tracks to the proper level and repair the street, but so far it has been of no avail.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The Sun cannot guarantee the insertion of advertisements in the Sunday issue unless the copy is handed in early Friday morning. This also applies to changes in advertisements already running in the paper.

Idleness deteriorates character, but true work makes it and builds it up. It creates the atmosphere in which the virtues grow, and it gives to life the necessary discipline and strength.

It is not the man who never makes a mistake that wins the great success, but the man who refusing to be discouraged by his mistakes learns wisdom from them and thereby reaches at last the goal of his ambition.

Vice is ever alert to poison the mind and destroy the character of young people. At least an equal vigilance should be displayed in storing their minds with that which is welcome and in safe-guarding their lives.

A good authority has recently said that working women are more virtuous than those who live in so-called higher sphere. There is no doubt of it, for work promotes virtue and many other qualities while idleness gets people into all kinds of mischief.

Secretary of War Dickinson will address the Southern Commercial Congress in Washington during the afternoon session of December 6th. The subject dealt with by the speakers that afternoon will be the external trade influences exerted by the South American Republics, present port conditions in the South, and the manufacturing opportunities of the South, which are largely dependent for their future upon trade created southward rather than northward. Attendance upon the Southern Commercial Congress is open to all who are interested in Southern development.

Dr. Broughton, the evangelist, went out of his way in a sermon delivered at Tampa last Friday night to vilify and abuse the order of Elks, for which Editor Stovall of The Tribune took him to task. Thereupon the Doctor devoted his Sunday sermon to hurling vile epithets at the newspaper man who had taken up the cudgel for one of the most charitable orders on the face of the earth—an order the members of which, as a whole, are as good men as compose any organization, not excepting the churches. Dr. Broughton's broad statement that the Elks is an organization of "sports," "drunkards" and "gamblers," is as far from the truth as other statements for which he has been called down in the past, and it is just such statements as this which lessen the influence of men so capable of doing good. But the order of Elks needs no defense at our hands. Their work for humanity is not characterized by sounding of trumpets, as is that of some men we could name, but they are doing this work just the same, as are all the other better class of secret orders. And Dr. Broughton's attack will not deter them from continuing the work.

A MISGUIDED CRITIC.

The Tribune has no sympathy whatever with the criticism of the so-called "Murphree's Press Club," of the State University, indulged in by The Inverness Chronicle. In fact, The Tribune is shocked and surprised at The Chronicle for such an unkind and unjust expression.

It is undeniably true that the press of the State has been and is being "worked" to an almost intolerable degree by semi-public and, in some cases, strictly private enterprises, in the guise of "news-matter" which is, in short, nothing more than free advertising. But it is a narrow view indeed which would include in this "sponging" category the movement now being developed by President Murphree, for the advancement of the University and, at the same time, for the training of the young Floridians under his instruction in the gentle art of putting their thoughts and ideas into "newspaper English."

The Tribune believes that this is one of the best ideas yet put into execution by a Florida institution of learning. It gives the young people practical experience in "writing for the paper"—an accomplishment which every man and woman who expects to take any part in the drama of life should cultivate and become familiar with—not necessarily with a view to making it a business or a profession or a means of livelihood, but for practical, every-day use. What man of any consequence in a community is there who does not at some time or other, find himself called upon to prepare something for publication—and what an advantage it gives him with the editor if he is capable of putting his communication into proper shape for the "copy desk" of a modern newspaper. The same is true of women.

The Tribune's experience has been that only one in one hundred of the persons who contribute matter to its columns is in even the slightest degree familiar with even the most rudimentary rules of writing "copy" for a paper. This lack of knowledge makes the editor's job all the more difficult, it being found in many cases absolutely necessary to completely rewrite the article submitted. How much easier it would be for all concerned were the general public better posted in this very simple accomplishment.

It is for this reason that The Tribune approves and applauds the efforts of President Murphree to give the University students training in writing for publication. He never did a better thing and The Tribune hopes he will persevere in it. As for this paper, it will be glad to print the matter sent out by the "Murphree Press Club" and its editors will take pleasure in giving the contributions special attention and in assisting the correspondents in perfecting themselves in the valuable work. The success and the continuance of the Murphree plan means much saving of labor and time for the Florida editors of the future. Good luck and undiminished encouragement to it!—Tampa Tribune.

Some people are so lacking in individuality and lean so heavily and constantly upon others that if the support should give way they would topple over.

The man who thinks all his own actions are perfect and all those of other people imperfect stands alone in his opinion.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

WHEREIN THE DUTCH BEAT US.

According to The Railway Magazine of London, in Holland all railway locomotives are under the supervision of the government, and, under the law, must be provided with an apparatus for the burning of smoke, and also with an apparatus to prevent, as far as possible, the emission of sparks and combustible matter. Before a new type of locomotive is bought the railway must furnish a drawing showing the details thereof to the supervising board of railways, which decides whether the new type is acceptable; and for all locomotives purchased the railway has to furnish the board with a statement containing, among other things, a description of the contrivance for the burning of smoke and of the contrivance to prevent the emission of sparks. Every locomotive has to be examined and approved by a government inspector before it can be placed in service. No locomotive would be accepted which was not provided specially with a contrivance for burning the smoke, and the burning by locomotives and stationary furnaces of bituminous coal, which would emit clouds of black smoke, soot, and deleterious gases, to the menace of the public health, would not be tolerated. The provincial and communal authorities are authorized to make and enforce regulations in reference to railways, constructed on the public roads. The province of Zuid-Holland, for instance, has prescribed that only coke is to be used on locomotives.

They certainly think a good deal more of the public health, to say nothing of the cleanliness of cities and premises, clothing and hands and faces, than we do in this country. In fact the Dutch are hard to beat in all things pertaining to comfort and cleanliness.

CURED ITCHING
PAINFUL HUMOR

Which had Spread Over Face, Body and Arms—Swellings were as Large as a Dollar—When they Broke, Sores would Not Heal—Suffered 3 Years.

MADE SOUND AND WELL
BY 3 SETS OF CUTICURA

"My trouble began about three years ago with little black swellings scattered over my face and neck. They would disappear but they would leave little black scars that would itch at times so I couldn't keep from scratching them. Larger swellings would appear in the same place and they were so painful I could hardly bear it and my clothes would stick to the sores. The first doctor I went to said the disease was scrofula, but the trouble only got worse and spread. By this time it was all over my arms and the upper part of my body in big swellings as large as a dollar. It was so painful that I could not bear to lie on my back at night. The second doctor pronounced my disease inflammation of the lymphatic glands. He stopped the swellings, but when they would break the places would not heal. He tried everything that he could but to no effect. He said I might be cured but it would take a long time. I bought a set of the Cuticura Remedies and used them according to directions and in less than a week some of the places were nearly well. I continued with the Cuticura Remedies until I had used three sets, and now I am sound and well. The disease lasted three years from the time it commenced until I was cured. Before Christmas something broke out on my seven year old brother's hands in the form of large sores. I tried everything I could think of but to no effect until I happened to think of Cuticura and one application cured him. Also, not long ago, my sister got a bad burn on her ankle. I have been using Cuticura on that and it gave her scarcely any trouble. O. L. Wilson, Puryear, Tenn., Feb. 8, 1908."

Warm baths with Cuticura Soap, gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment and mild doses of Cuticura Pills, afford immediate relief and point to a speedy cure of torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin, scalp and blood of infants, children and adults, when all else fails.

TRUTH ABOUT CATARRH.

Sensible Methods Will Cure It—J. W. McCollum & Co. Guarantee Hyomel to Cure Catarrh.

Catarrh can never be cured by taking medicine into the stomach nor by sprays, atomizers or douches.

Intelligent physicians have long ago discarded such ideas and not one of them would be worth consideration were it not for the fact that unscrupulous persons prey upon the ignorance of the people in regard to new discoveries.

Catarrh is caused by germs and just as long as these germs thrive in the folds, crevices, nooks and corners of the mucous membrane that line the nose, throat and chest, just so long will you have catarrh.

There is only one remedy that will kill the germs when it gets where the germs are, and that is Hyomel.

Hyomel is made chiefly from Australian Eucalyptus and Eucalyptol combined with other germ-killing antiseptics. Just breathe it in through the hard rubber inhaler that comes with each outfit and relief is immediate. Used regularly for a few weeks Hyomel (pronounced High-o-me) will cure chronic catarrh. Complete outfit $1.00 at J. W. McCollum & Co's., and leading druggists everywhere.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

WASHING DISHES.

Time in a Woman's Life when she enjoys it. She knew but one woman who liked to wash dishes that moment our faith in melted like soap in hot water.

When we wish we were a man, we wish we were a man who could wash dishes. When he sits or discusses the past, we must attend to the dishes.

When we wonder that girls get so monstrous round of dishwashing, we must attend to the dishes. When we must attend to the dishes, we must attend to the dishes.

When we dream over the blue of the old fashioned dishes—impossible temples and castles in unhealthy proximity to the sea and in girlish fancy wanders of lands to dwell in the air.

When the shrill voice of our mother clear and sharp: "What are you doing?" with a scold on the last syllable of the word.

When she knows that "Till" is over the dishpan again, and she permitted in our active life which was conducted on the "up" system.

When ladies going mad over the wonder if they served tablefuls of New York Weekly.

CLASHING STARS.

A Greenroom Quarrel in Which Marie Roze Triumphed.

Minnie Hauck and Marie Roze had quarreled over "Carmen." One night "The Marriage of Figaro" was announced, with Roze as Susanna and Hauck as Cherubino.

"At 3 o'clock that afternoon," writes Mr. Upton, "Hauck went into the theater and pre-empted the prima donna's room by depositing her things there. An hour later Roze's maid reached the theater and proceeded to the same room, only to find it filled with the hated rival's traps. Roze notified the colonel (Henry Mapleson). He was promptly on the scene and began moving Hauck's belongings to the opposite room and instructing his wife to be at the theater precisely at 6.

"At half past 5, however, Hauck sent the chevalier (her husband) to the theater to see that everything was right. The chevalier found that everything was not right and ordered Roze's belongings to be removed, replaced his wife's and had everything, including the door, stoutly locked.

"At 6 Roze arrived, prepared to 'hold the fort,' but as she couldn't get into the fort to hold it she sent for the colonel, who sent for a locksmith, who opened the door. Hauck's things were unceremoniously bundled out. At half past 6 Hauck came to the room to dress, and, much to her surprise and to the chevalier's chagrin, Roze was in there calmly dressing. What passed between them probably no one will ever know, but Hauck went back to her hotel and notified the manager that she would not sing that evening. And she didn't."—Pearson's Weekly.

THE BOROBOEDOER.

A Hindoo Temple Built in Java in the Eighth Century.

The Borobodoer unearthed by Sir Stamford Raffles when the English ruled in Java was built by the Hindoos in the eighth century and is by far the finest example of their work in the island. Standing on a hill in the middle of the valley, this imposing edifice, covering nearly ten acres, rises to a height of upward of a hundred feet above the summit of the hill.

It consists of a series of stone terraces built on top of each other in diminishing magnitude so as to leave circumscribing galleries and crowned by a vast cupola. Entrance to the galleries is gained by four stairways—north, south, east and west—which run from the ground straight up to the big top terraces, in the middle of which stands the crowning cupola, surrounded by numerous smaller latticework cupolas, from which one may step aside into any of the intermediate galleries.

The whole is built of stone, showing an immense amount of carving, and, though there is no genuine inside to the temple, many of the galleries are covered in, innumerable images of Buddha occupying niches or prominent positions on the walls, and the sides of the galleries were paved with bas-reliefs, indicating the glorification of this god and other incidents in his history. When one considers that there are several miles of bas-reliefs alone the work expended on the pyramids of Egypt pales into insignificance before this stupendous undertaking.—Shanghai Mercury.

Wedding Horses.

An old fashioned man who wanted to hire a team for the afternoon saw a nice pair of bays which he thought he would like to drive.

"Can't let you have them," said the liveryman. "They are wedding horses."

"What's that?" asked the innocent pleasure seeker.

"Horses that won't shy at old shoes and shoes of rice. Some horses seem prejudiced against matrimony. Anyhow they lose their temper if they happen to be hit by any of the good luck emblems that are fired after a bride couple and run away if they get half a chance. Every livery stable, however, keeps two or more horses that take a more cheerful view of the wedded state. They may be literally pelted with old shoes without resenting it. Those bays are that kind. They are slated to head a wedding procession tonight and are resting up for the job."—New York Sun.

Bed Good Enough For Him.

"Son," called the farmer as the aroma of eggs and ham came up through the trapdoor, "why don't you get up?" "What's the use?" yawned the college boy as he turned over for another nap. "Don't believe in early rising."

"Don't, eh? Well, how about the early bird?"

"Oh, that's a chestnut! The early bird caught the early worm, and the early cat caught the bird, and the early dog caught the cat, and the early dog catcher caught the dog. So there you are. What's the use of getting up early? It doesn't pay."—Chicago News.

GAINESVILLE,
—THE—
University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. #### BASKETBALL FRIDAY.

Town Team Will Play Team From Gainesville High School.

Friday afternoon at 3:15, at the baseball park, the town team and the high school girls go up against each other. A very exciting game is anticipated, and all are urged to go out and root for their favorite team. Both teams are 'n debt, owing to the necessity of having to have the proper courts, etc., fixed, so the earnest cooperation of all the town people is requested, and will be appreciated by both teams.

Remember the date, Friday afternoon, Dec. 3rd. The line-up of both teams will appear in Friday's paper.

Admission to all 25 cents. Game called promptly at 3:15.

Midnight Doctors

are the most unwelcome visitors—even the doctor himself curses the luck that compelled him to leave his comfortable bed. Suppose you try our method, and keep a big 35c bottle of Perry Davis' Painkiller in the house, and let the doctor stay in bed and enjoy himself.

If its worth more to someone else than to you—no matter what it is—a want ad will be a good investment.
